■ New Boot for Justin

Justin Original Workboots has announced the addition of a new square steel toe to their successful Stampede Collection.

The innovative new product is available in stores now, and will retail for approximately $100 to $110. Along with the new Western styling, the Stampede Collection work boots will continue to provide extended safety and durability with multi-density inserts, enhanced performance storm welts, shock-absorbing gel heel pads and slip and abrasion-resistant outsoles.

“We are very proud of the aesthetic appeal of this newly developed low profile square toe work boot that meets all ASTM safety toe requirements.” said Brandon Barker, brand manager of Justin Original Workboots. “With a focus on providing superior value, the new Stampede Collection’s square steel toe meets key function and comfort demands while offering innovative styling features, and is aimed to exceed our consumers’ and retail partners’ expectations.”
